Your Favorite Podiatrist Has Moved

Dr. Gene Graham Gets His Foot in the Door at FAAWC

The Foot & Ankle Wellness Center is happy to welcome Dr. Gene Graham and his wife, Cindy, to its family.

Good day to all of my loyal patients – my “family.”

As most of you may have heard, I no longer am practicing at Columbus Podiatry & Surgery. Many of you have called that practice – or me directly – and were told that I’m no longer there. Rest assured, I have not retired; nor have I died.

I joined a new practice, Foot & Ankle Wellness Center, on Sept. 8. I chose this practice after visiting it and spending a lot of time with its people the past several months. I can say without reserve that this is a different type of practice that is an extension of me and what I have believed and tried to practice since I started a “few” years ago. (And the years are going by faster and faster.)

I will have early and late hours throughout the week, and I will be doing surgery at hospitals in Columbus and Delaware.

You will find that the other doctors and the staff here are friendly and accommodating to your needs and wants.

The facility opened three years ago and is a state-of-the-art practice with many treatment programs that were not available at my previous practices. You can learn more about these in this pamphlet and at our website – www.FAAWC.com.

We have new technology for treating neuropathy. We have a different type of laser that can be used for fungal nail infections, warts, spider veins, age spots, hair removal and tattoo removal. We even have a sterile nail salon!

I am excited to have found such a great group of people to work with in a place where I intend to spend the rest of my practicing days. And I’m thrilled to be able to give you access to such outstanding technology to help relieve and heal your foot and ankle pains quickly. Have a great fall season!
